

Worried about your vision? We're here for you

I'm Jamie, the Eye Care Liaison Officer (ECLO) based at Pinderfields Hospital.

ECLOs offer practical and emotional support to anyone affected by sight loss, including families and carers. I'm from RNIB (Royal National Institute of Blind People), the UK's leading sight loss charity.

With my expert guidance, you can find ways to:

- maintain your independence
- better understand your eye condition and treatment
- apply for helpful benefits and concessions
- use technology to help you do the things you need to do to
- stay in employment or education, or take up new opportunities
- continue enjoying leisure activities.
